Englishwoman Ties American for Medal Honors of Metropolitan Golf Championship Tourney on Greenwich Links

TWO WOMEN TIE FOR GOLF MEDAL

Mrs. F. E. Du Bois and Mrs. C. M. Knight Lead at Greenwich.

By KERR N. PETRIE.

Only for the clever work of Mrs. F. E. Du Bois of Baltusrol the women golfers of this section would have had to stand aside yesterday at Greenwich Country Club and watch the qualifying medal in the annual Metropolitan championship tournament being carried championship tournament being carried away by an English player, Mrs. C. M. Knight of Barden City, only a few months resident in this country. As it was, Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Du Beis each went out in 43 and came home in 45 for a total of 58, and so they live to compete another day for what amounts to championship medal play supremacy. Scarcely a day passes but leaves the linksmar, and the linkswoman more ever convinced that the pastim to which they are devoted is one of the most uncertain things in life. From first to last yesterday's qualifying round was one long surprise. Greenich, most of the women players concold figures there was a decidedly different story to tell. When Mrs. W. A. Gavin of Bellecials. national runer-up last year and Met-repolitan title holder in 1917, came in with a card of 90 there was deep astonishment, but after the score board scrutineers had been given time enough to analyze the cards it was found that laugh was very much on the side Greenwich links and that the so easy had really proved one of the hardest tests selected by the fair goifers in years.

offer. H. Arnold Jackson, national champion in 1908 and 1914, who is now a member of Greenwich Country Club, dropped into third place with a card five strokes worse than the returns made by Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Du Bois and confessed that even if she had four sevens and as many sixes on her card she had not been playing at all badly. After Mrs. Jackson was Miss Georgi-anna M. Bishop of Brooklyn, another one-time national title holder, at 94, while two strokes away came Mrs. Henry Blumenthal of Fairview and Mrs. Quentin Feitner of South Shore Field Club, many times winner of the Metropolitan honors.

Stars Have Close Call.

For Mrs. Gavin, however, that # alpards had been returned and entered it was found that there was a tie for the last place in the championship division en Mrs. Thomas Huckhall of Forest Hill and Mrs. Gouverneur Morris of Bedford, who each had played a round of Mrs. Hucknall, who was runner up for the metropolitan championship in 1917 and a semi-final in the national in 1916. D. C. Corkran of Baltimore was run-ner up to Gardner, with a card of 151. was just one more of the surprises of a rather topsy-turvy day's golf. By going out in 46 she had a chance to take a ery much better position, but 54 was her tally for the incoming nine. Another upset was furnished by Miss

Irene Peacock, formerly of Thousand Islands County Club, one of the semiship. Miss Peacock is now a member of the Cherry Valley Country Club, but evimetropolitan turf. Her game was one of the most erratic of all, for while she 167; H. J. Topping, Greenwich, 167; C. played in good form on two-thirds of the B. Calvert, North Hills, 168, and Regholes the other third saw her garner a crop of eights and nines that loaded it down until the indicator stood at 107, There were not many 2s around, but a few nevertheless. Mrs. Jackson registered one on the second hole when she stropped her ball about eight feet from the cup and holed the putt. Another was made by Mrs. Henry Blumenthal of Fairview at the tenth. Several other players came very close on this particu-To compile her St Mer. Du Rois played a steady round, the highest figure on her card being 6, whereas Mrs. Knight

His son is conversant with his system-in fact, we understand that he is being pointed to take his father's place when he rotires. Why not appoint him official assistant and have these selling handicaps for the better class of horses? The matter is worthy of the urgent and by the time the first cup race arrived consideration of the officials. We need a revision of conditions, so that horses which are better than the selling platers but not good enough to go in the major events, are provided with races in which both the public and the owners would receive adequate protection. There are more of these horses now than ever before, and we wonder why the stewards of the Jockey Club have not done something to relieve the condition

Racing Scene Shifts to a Better Place

Everybody connected intimately or remotely with racing-with the exeption of a very few high in the councils of the Westchester Racing Assoclation-was mighty glad yesterday to see the scene of sport shift from Belmont Park to Jamaica. At Belmont Park the horses had to run the wrong way, and most of the trainers were averse to sending their charges into contests on that track. Now we have come back to a track where the horses run the American way, and we are bound to see a big improvement all around-better and truer races and bigger fields.

After many years of futile attempt to "educate" the horses and trainers-and the public too-August Belmont and his associates have decided to give up the fight and to change the track at Belmont Park. But we hear that Mr. Belmont wants to retain a secondary straight course. We hope that this is not true, for straight racing is not popular in this country, Those who pay their way in want to see the start and the finish.

A Plen for Small Boys at the Polo Grounds. The increase in prices of admission at the Polo Grounds practically has done away with the boy fan. The time was when the bleachers fairly bristled with yougnsters, but nowadays the vast expanse of seats out in centre field is almost unoccupied. When we look across the field and see the hundreds of seats, every one of them yearning for some small boy to sit on it and yell himself hoarse for the home club, we are forced to believe that the New York clubs are passing up a great opportunity.

Why not admit boys under 15 to the centre field bleachers for fifteen or twenty cents on week days? The strongest fan is the one who has been developed on the home grounds from his boyhood days. The local clubs have an opportunity to put live, shouting youngsters into vacant seats; to build up future patronage; to improve present encouragement for the home teams and to give boys a chance to see real baseball. Why not accept this sug-

Hard Task Ahead for the America's Cup Committee The Resolute and the Vanitie, rivals for the privilege of defending the America's Cup against the Shamrock IV. next month off Sandy Hook, have raced seven of the scheduled fourteen trial races off Newport. These races have left the Resolute with an advantage in the matter of victories by 4 to 3, but have left an advantage with the Vanitle in perhaps a more important feature. While the Resolute has had to be hauled up at Bristol after every trial and repaired in some particular, the Vanitie has gone through he series unscathed and is just as stanch as ever. There is no denying that the Resolute is the faster boat in a light preeze, but the Vanitie has shown the greater speed in a fair blow and has emonstrated that she is far the more seaworthy. It is particularly unfortunate that the boats will not have the benefit of a series of races off Sandy Hook, where their skippers and crews could become accustomed to the winds and other conditions. But those behind the Resolute apparently want to be near the dry dock at Bristol. However, we are to have seven more races, and these should serve to tell the tale. It looks very much as if the selection committee will be up a tree, as was in 1901, when the Columbia and the Constitution scored nine victories each in the trials. A good many expert yachtsmen thought that the Constitution was the better all around yacht, but the committee named the old Columbia, which already had defended the cup successfully in 1899and again the Columbia won

Lipton Yachts to Engage in Columbia, Cornell and Syra-Race Off Sandy Hook. cuse Have Light Work. Race Off Sandy Hook. Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrocks are spin on the international cup course off Sandy Hook on Thursday; that is if the present plans work out. One very algnificant thing about the Lipton people themselves in any way, and besides there s an air of confidence about the whale outfit that is surprising. The way it felt yesterday to the Shamrock people was that if the boats did not go out on Thursday they could hoist their canvas on Friday or perhaps on Saturday. "It
